We Feed People—a Ron Howard-directed documentary about Chef José Andrés and World Central Kitchen—premieres May 27 on Disney+. We hope you'll join us for a behind-the-scenes look at the evolution of WCK's food relief work, from the earliest days in Haiti to our current global impact.

We have several ways for our incredible community (you!) to get involved around the release of We Feed People.

Host a Screening

SEND INVITATIONS

Invite your community to join you for a movie night - whether for the premiere Watch Party or after! Everyone has a seat at this table. Invite your:

Friends and family. Tune in on Disney+ and follow WCK's journey from the comfort of home.

Coworkers. Movie night is a great team building event! Host a group screening by streaming from Disney+ at your office or invite everyone to watch from their homes. No matter how your team sees the film, bring them together - in person or virtually - for a conversation afterwards. See here for sample discussion topics.

Classmates and students. Stream from Disney+ in your classroom or assembly hall, and follow up with a conversation around the film! See here for sample discussion topics.

Customers. Does your restaurant, bar, or small business have space to play movies? Host Dinner & a Doc Night! Stream from Disney+ and create a special menu for your guests to enjoy. See here for ideas of how restaurants can connect their community with the film.

MAKE IT DELICIOUS

Food is at the heart of any WCK experience, so whether you're getting take out or catering from a local restaurant, putting together a potluck, or making your version of WCK menu classics (ham and cheese sandwiches, arroz con pollo, and chicken pot pie, are just a few ideas!), make sure you are feeding people!

Share on Social

After you've watched We Feed People, we invite you to share about the film with your family and friends. We've created the following graphics that you can use to bring others into the conversation about how we can, together, use the power of food to change the world.

Assets are available to download here.

- Documentary trailer and poster
- Graphics formatted for IG and TW
- Photos of WCK's work in the field

Do you have a favorite quote from the movie? Is there something that has stuck with you? Customize the language you use when sharing! And don't forget to tag #WeFeedPeople and @wckitchen in your posts so we can see them, too!

Donate to WCK

WCK's work is made possible by donations of all sizes. If you'd like to support our work around the world you can do so by:

- Visiting here to make a one-time donation, or
- Visiting here to become a monthly donor fueling our Climate Disaster Fund that allows us to respond with urgency when climate-related disasters strike.
